

Dr. Sandy Cayo - Story

Sandy Cayo has been involved with Global Health in both Haiti and Ghana for the past three years. In Haiti, she is working with HEAL (Health Education Action League) for Haiti. Each April she travels as a group to St. Marc Haiti to conduct a mobile health clinic. With other volunteers, she is able to care for 400 adults and 300 children during this mobile clinic. She is currently leading the efforts and applying for a $30,000 grant for project PREP to train pre-licensure nurses on best practices in health promotion and prevention of communicable diseases.

In Ghana Sandy works with Amazing Grace Children's Foundations as the Director of Quality and Improvement and Partnerships. She has led efforts with four quality-improvement projects focused on maternal-child health, infant nutrition, and child oral health. She travels each January to Ghana and sees over 1200 children.
