

Martin Viegas - Story

Marty recently went to Cameroon on a Heart to Heart trip to help build a clinic. At the time, there were no clinics in a large area and people were walking for days to get to the clinic. Marty not only went on the trip to help build the clinic, educate the staff, and help put processes in place, but he also stopped to help build restroom facilities for a local open air market that had no facilities. Marty used his carpentry skills to help tile the bathrooms and get them ready for the people in the market.

Marty's selfless acts of kindness inspire everyone around him. Whether it be collecting toys for local toy drives, food for local food banks, or doing 5Ks to raise money for special causes, Marty inspires us all to want to be better versions of ourselves.
